

Robert Cumming

Robert Cumming est né dans le Massachusetts en 1943. Il a obtenu une licence en peinture au Massachusetts College of Art, à Boston, ainsi qu'une maîtrise en peinture à l'université de l'Illinois, à Champagne-Urbana. Après ses études, il a enseigné à l'université pendant trois ans, tout en présentant ses sculptures et ses peintures dans plusieurs expositions à travers le Midwest. Dans sa pratique sculpturale, il construit des objets illogiques mais d'apparence fonctionnelle qui sont intentionnellement dépourvus d'utilité. Il s'adonne également au mail art, expédiant des branches d'arbre et des tissus de nettoyage à sec, ainsi que des cartes postales faites maison ou achetées dans le commerce, à des amis et à des inconnus, proches ou lointains.

En 1970, Cumming s'installe dans le sud de la Californie, à la recherche d'une nouvelle visibilité dans le monde artistique en plein essor de Los Angeles. C'est là qu'il commence à se concentrer sur la photographie, construisant des tableaux élaborés qu'il capture avec des détails exquis à l'aide d'un appareil photo 8 x 10. En 1973, Cumming expose pour la première fois ses photographies dans le cadre de l'exposition Minor White, Robert Heinecken, Robert Cumming : Photograph as Metaphor, Photograph as Object, Photograph as Document of Concept, à la California State University, Long Beach. Parmi les autres expositions de cette période, citons Art by Telephone au Museum of Contemporary Art, Chicago ; 24 Young Los Angeles Artists au Los Angeles County Museum of Art ; Picture Puzzles et Mirrors and Windows au Museum of Modern Art, New York ; et les Biennales du Whitney en 1977 et 1981.

Cumming a exposé son travail dans le monde entier. L'exposition la plus récente de ses photographies, Robert Cumming : The Secret Life of Objects, a été inaugurée au George Eastman Museum et s'est rendue au California Museum of Photography at UCR ARTSblock à Riverside, en Californie, à l'automne 2019. Parmi ses autres expositions personnelles, citons Robert Cumming: Cone of Vision, une rétrospective qui a voyagé en Australie et à travers les États-Unis avec des arrêts au Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, au Contemporary Arts Museum, Houston, et au Museum of Contemporary Art, San Diego, ainsi que plus de soixante-dix autres expositions individuelles, dont Robert Cumming: Intuitive Inventions (Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, 1988), Mechanical Illusions by Robert Cumming (Whitney Museum of American Art, 1986) et The Clutter of Happenstance (MoMA, New York, 1998).
