NO NAME

LA MAGNITUDE DES CORPS

La Magnitude des corps brings together photographic works by Hannah Villiger, sculptures by June Crespo, and paintings by José Eduardo Barajas in an exploration of the body, its imprints, and the traces of its presence. Across three distinct practices, the body emerges through fragments, impressions, and traces, oscillating between physical presence and its dissolution into abstraction. Whether captured through the photographic lens, articulated through sculptural assemblages, or evoked through painterly gestures, the body becomes both subject and material, a site where boundaries between flesh, surface, and space are continuously redefined.
